

Xth EFEP R 2016 Conference

4-8 September, Torino, Italy

First Circular & Call for papers

The local Organizing Committee and the Italian EPR group, GIRSE, are pleased to invite you to the Xth Conference of the European Federation of EPR groups (EFEP R) that will be held in Torino (Italy) in September 2016.

The European Federation of Electron Paramagnetic Resonance groups (EFEP R) is a non formal organization which gathers 14 EPR groups from European Countries and other Countries in the region.

EFEP R periodically organizes an international conference that covers the main aspects of EPR spectroscopy, including new experimental and theoretical methodologies. Previous EFEP R conferences were held in Padua (1991), Paris (1994), Leipzig (1997), Norwich (2000), Lisbon (2003), Madrid (2006), Antwerp (2009), Frankfurt (2011) and Marseilles (2014).

International Advisory Board

Prof. Donatella Carbonera (IT)
Prof. Georg Gescheidt (AT)
Prof. Elio Giamello (IT) - Chairman
Prof. Etienne Goovaerts (BE)
Prof. Edgar Groenen (NL)
Prof. Bruno Guigliarelli (FR)
Prof. Wolfgang Lubitz (DE)
Prof. Eric McInnes (UK)

Plenary Speakers

Prof. Vincenzo Barone (IT)
Dr. Carole Duboc (FR)
Prof. Daniella Goldfarb (IL)
Prof. Damien Murphy (UK)
Prof. Thomas Prisner (DE)
Dr. Anton Savitsky (DE)
Prof. Stefan Stoll (US)

Topics

- EPR of organic and inorganic systems
- Advanced materials
- Biophysical, biochemical and biomedical applications
- DNP and emerging applications of EPR
- Emerging techniques and methodologies
- EPR Imaging and Microscopy
- Spin Trapping and Spin Labeling Chemistry
- Theoretical Chemistry and EPR

Preliminary Information

The Conference will consist of 7 plenary lectures, 10 keynotes, 30 oral communications and 2 poster sessions.

Instruction for abstract submission and information concerning the conference will be available soon on the official website: www.efep r2016.unito.it

Important dates

- March 1st, 2016: Second Circular
- April 1st, 2016: Opening of Abstract submission

Registration Fees

	Before 1 st June 2016	After 1 st June 2016
Academics	450 €	550 €
Students	350 €	450 €
Industrials	1000 €	1500 €

Each quote includes: conference bag, book of abstract, welcome reception (on Sunday 4th September), coffee breaks and lunches.

Conference dinner: 50 €

Location and Venue

The city of Torino is located in the north-west of Italy, and is easily accessible by train and by plane from the International Airports of Milano Malpensa (www.milanomalpensa-airport.com/en) and Torino Caselle (www.aerportoditorino.it/en).

The conference will take place at the main hall of the University of Torino "La Cavallerizza". The hall is located in the City Centre, close to the hotels and to the main tourist attractions (www.turismotorino.org).

Founded by a local tribe at the intersection of two rivers, Torino became a roman colony with the name of "Augusta taurinorum" in the first century B.C. Thereafter, twenty centuries of history left to the city a special charm and many architecturally important buildings, especially from the period in which it was the capital of the Duchy of Savoy. Torino became in 1861 the first Capital of the Italian Kingdom. Recently, the city hosted the XXth Winter Olympic Games (2006) and has been awarded European Capital of Sports (2015).

